Training Methodology

This program integrates economic theory, legal application, and practical analysis to ensure real-world relevance and professional impact. Learning methods include:

- Real-world case studies on competition law and antitrust economics.
- Practical exercises in market analysis, concentration assessment, and evidence interpretation.
- Interactive workshops on merger review, cartel analysis, and dominance issues.
- Group discussions on digital markets, innovation, and advanced competition topics.
- Frameworks and tools for applying economic analysis in competition law practice.

Beyond the Course

Upon completion, participants will be better equipped to understand and apply competition law economics with greater clarity, confidence, and analytical precision. They will return ready to:

- Assess competition law issues using stronger economic reasoning.
- Interpret market evidence and competitive effects more effectively.
- Support compliance and enforcement strategies with greater confidence.
- Navigate complex antitrust matters in traditional and emerging markets.
