International Relations and World Politics Training Course

2027 □□□□□ 6 – 2
Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia)

International Relations and World Politics Training Course

Ref: 20222325_105674 Location: Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia) Fees: 4900 GBP

Course Description

This intensive 1-week course provides a comprehensive introduction to international relations and world politics. Participants will explore key theories, analyze current global issues, and develop practical skills in diplomacy and policy analysis. The course combines academic insights with real-world applications to prepare participants for engaging effectively in the international arena.

Learning Objectives

- Understand core theories and concepts in international relations
- Analyze complex global issues and their impact on world politics
- Develop critical thinking and analytical skills for policy formulation
- Gain practical experience in diplomatic negotiation and conflict resolution
- Enhance understanding of global governance and international organizations

Course Modules

Day 1: Foundations of International Relations

- Introduction to IR theories: Realism, Liberalism, Constructivism
- Historical development of the international system
- Key actors in world politics: States, IGOs, NGOs
- Power dynamics and balance of power concepts

Day 2: Global Security and Conflict

- Causes and nature of international conflicts
- Nuclear proliferation and arms control
- Terrorism and asymmetric warfare
- Peacekeeping and humanitarian intervention

Day 3: International Political Economy

- Global trade and financial systems
- Economic interdependence and globalization
- Development and inequality in the world economy
- Environmental politics and climate change

Day 4: International Law and Human Rights

- Principles of international law
- Human rights in global context
- International Criminal Court and transitional justice
- Refugee crises and migration issues

Day 5: Diplomacy and Global Governance

- Diplomatic practices and negotiation techniques
- Role of the United Nations and regional organizations
- Emerging challenges in global governance
- Future trends in international relations

Practical Wins for Participants

- Enhanced ability to analyze complex international issues
- Improved skills in diplomatic communication and negotiation
- Deeper understanding of global policy-making processes
- Expanded professional network in the field of international relations

