Why This Course

Well-written policies and procedures help organizations operate consistently, reduce risks, meet compliance requirements, and guide employees in making the right decisions. This intensive 1-week Policy and Procedure Writing Training program equips participants with practical skills to develop clear, concise, compliant, and usable policy documents. The course covers policy lifecycle management, document structure, writing standards, legal and compliance considerations, implementation planning, communication, staff training, resistance management, review cycles, feedback, and continuous improvement.
